Forever Young!

Will enhance transnational mobility by designing routes and products, based upon local cultural UNESCO heritage (immaterial and material such as oral traditions, monuments, Mediterranean dietary, etc.) in association with the promotion of local typical food and beverages in order to provide an unique learning experience: living the culture.

- The overall objective of "Forever Young!" project is to increase, through transnational cooperation, the sustainability and competitiveness of the low and medium season within the framework of "grey-tourism".

- Increase of tourism flows during the low and medium seasons between solid networks of partners: Italy, Spain, Slovenia, Greece, France, Estonia and Slovakia.

- The main target group are seniors and tourism packages will be addressed
  To two specific sub-groups: seniors aged 55-65 and seniors aged 65+ in order to create a tourist package able to mix and match their needs and demands.

- "Forever Young!" Is aimed at creating a peculiar tourism offer linked to cultural and industrial heritage promoting a new concept model of "culture": experiential learning and full immersion in the hosting country to enjoy tangible and intangible cultural assets such as traditions (food and beverage), hospitality (agritourism and hosting families), cultural heritage (archaeological sites and unique natural beauties recognized by UNESCO), products (how to produce wines or typical handcraft)and ancient traditions (festivity).

- The grey tourist will be embedded in a unique experience which enables to "live the cultures".

Tourism Offer and Web Platform

A total of 7 tourism itineraries targeted at Senior customers were produced in the frame of the "Forever Young!" project, across the varied landscape of partner countries: Italy, Slovakia, France, Estonia, Slovenia, Spain and Greece.

"Forever Young" Tourism Itineraries are based on the core project concept summarized in the "Live the Culture!" formula, expressing a comprehensive approach to the tourism experience grounded on an immersive discovery of the material and immaterial assets forming part of the cultural heritage of tourism destinations, in terms of typical food, beverages and products, festivals and cultural events, typical styles of hospitality.

The centerpiece of "Forever Young!" architecture of tourism offer and promotion is provided by project-specific Web Platform, recently released at the address www.foreveryoungtourism.eu. The purpose of "Forever Young!" Web Platform is to provide visibility to project concept and tourism offer.

The Web Platform contains a specific "Offers and services" section wherein the interest user can find concise and articulated descriptions of the different Senior-targeted tourism itineraries forming part of project offer. Digital mapped versions of the different itineraries are available in the dedicated Web Platform section "Itineraries".

The Web Platform also comprises a dedicated "Suggested Destination" section storing information related to suggested low/medium season tourism destinations in each partner country as well as a specific "Cultural Offer" section dedicated to disclosing selected, country-specific UNESCO sites and intangible assets.

Further information about "Forever Young!" concepts and offer can be provided through contacting project-specific email address info@foreveryoungtourism.eu.
